

Love Letter

Congratulations on your engagement and thank you for allowing me to be a part of your special day. I promise that your wedding day will be an amazing moment that you can cherish forever. I wish I had more time to get to know you and your story but because we all lead such busy lives I find it easier to ask you both to write a letter. I will use these letters as part of my wedding sermon/homily for your wedding ceremony.

Please write or type a letter to your fiancé. Please do not show your letter to your fiancé. I will make copies of this letter for my sermon/homily. I will give you the original letters in envelopes along with your marriage certificate. I write on the envelopes - "Please open on your 1st year anniversary". I have enjoyed hearing from couples who read their letters on their anniversary and what a great gift they were.

Some ideas of what to include in your letter: How you met, what qualities do you see in this person you're about to marry, why marry this person, what you dream marriage will be like with this person.

Please mail the letter to me at:

Or you can type and email me the letter
